

Come And Join Us For The

WEBINAR INVITATION

06/06/2024

Do you want to support CPMR lecture?

On 6 June 2024, the Conference of Peripheral Maritime Regions of Europe (CPMR) will deliver a guest lecture to students, researchers, and professors of the University of Aegean and University of Piraeus in Greece as part of the Hellenic Hull's E-sealearning programme. The lecture will focus on EU maritime policies and the challenges faced by insular regions, with an emphasis on the development of a sustainable blue economy. Topics covered will include the promotion of renewable energy production, sustainable fisheries management practices, maritime spatial planning, and the activities of the CPMR Islands Commission and Balkan and Black Sea Commission. The aim of the lecture is to support continuous professional development in the maritime sector and address educational challenges in island regions.

WEBINAR TIME : 12 O'CLOCK

Come And Join Us For The

WEBINAR INVITATION

06/06/2024

Do you want to support CPMR lecture?

On 6 June 2024, the Conference of Peripheral Maritime Regions of Europe (CPMR) will deliver a guest lecture to students, researchers, and professors of the University of Aegean and University of Piraeus in Greece as part of the Hellenic Hull's E-sealearning programme. The lecture will focus on EU maritime policies and the challenges faced by insular regions, with an emphasis on the development of a sustainable blue economy. Topics covered will include the promotion of renewable energy production, sustainable fisheries management practices, maritime spatial planning, and the activities of the CPMR Islands Commission and Balkan and Black Sea Commission. The aim of the lecture is to support continuous professional development in the maritime sector and address educational challenges in island regions.

WEBINAR TIME : 12 O'CLOCK